This great moral drama, which in its action has more eloquence than words ever knew and is a thrilling exhibition of the horrors and miseries arising from that erectest of earthly turpitudes—drunkenne s—will be presented, in pursuance with Mr. Ford's usual annual quarken on Christman Afternoon. The Drunkard is alesson and powerful example to the mind of youth as to the load of sin and the train of evel which fall to the lot of the rum crinker. The play will be put up in the stage with all the formible and insimitable eloquence which surrounds dramatic representations, and cannot fail to be an effectual instrument of good.

FROM THE VALLEY OF VIRGINIA.

Gen Averill's Operations-Hrs Raid a Brilliant Success-Great Destruction of Relel Property-Highly Interesting Details-Important Results. EDRAY, POCAHONTAS COUNTY, VA, Dec. 21, via Baverly, Dec. 22.)-H. W. Halleck, General-in- hief: I have the honor to report that I cut the Virginia and Tennesses Reffreed at Salem, on the 16th instant, and have arrived safely at this point with my command, conisting of the 2d, 3d and 8th Virginia mounted. infastry, 14th Pennsylvania, Dobson's battalion of cavalry, and Ewing's battery. At Salem hree depots were destroyed, containing 2,000 barrels of flour, 10,000 bushels of wheat, 100,000 bushels of shelled corn, 50,000 bushels of oats, 2,000 barrels of meat, several cords of leather, 1.000 sacks of salt. 31 boxes of clothing, 20 bales of cotton, large amount of harness, shoes and saddles, equipments, tools, oil, tar, and various other stores, and 100 wagons. The telegraph wire was cut, coiled and barned for half a mile. The water station, turn-table and three cars were burned, and the track torn up, and the rails heated and destroyed as much as pos-sible, in six hours. Five bridges and several culverts were destroyed over an extent of fifteen miles. A large quantity of bridge timber and repairing materials were also destroyed.

My march was retarded occasionally by the empest in the mountains and the roads. I was obliged to swim my command and drag my artillery with ropes across Cragg's Creek seven hmes in twenty-four hours. On my return I found six separate commands, under Generals Farly Jones, Fitz Lee, Imboden, Jackson, Echols and McCourtin, arranged in a line extending from Staunton to Newport, upon att the available roads, to prevent my return. I aptured a dispatch from Gen. Jones to Gen. Early, giving me the position (and that of Jackson at Clifton Forge and Covington) which ha was selected to carry. I marched from the front of Jones to that of Jackson during the night. His outposts were pressed in at a gallop by the sth Virginia mounted infantry, and the two bridges across Jackson river saved. Although faggots had been piled ready to ignite, my column, four miles long, hastened across, repardless of the enemy, until all but my ambulances and a few wagons and one regiment had passed, when a strong effort was made to ratske the first bridge, which did not succeed. The ambulances and some sick men were lost, and by the darkness and difficulties the last regiment was detained on the opposite side until morning, when it was ascertained that the enemy seemed determined to maintain his position up the cliffs which overlooked the

to me across the river and over the mountains. They swem the river with the loss of only four men drowned, and joined me. In the meantime, forces were concentrating upon me at Colaghan's, over every available road but one, which was deemed Impractica-ble, but by which I crossed over the top of the Alleghanies with my command, with the exception of four caissons, which were destroyed in order to increase the teams of the pieces. My loss is six men drowned, one officer and four men wounded, and four officers and ninety men missing. We captured about 200 prisoners, but have retained but four officers and eighty men, on account of their inability to bridges, which were long and high, to be destroyed, and the enemy imm-diately changed his position to the flank and rear of the detachment, which was cut off. I sent orders to the remnants to destroy our wagons and come
